24 APPLY FOR
PASSPORTS TO GO TO OLD COUNTRY

Issuing of passports of citizens to visit foreign nations is now an easy matter, judging from the speed in which returns are made after applications are filed at the office of the clerk of court here.

During the past year there were 24 passports applied for through Jesse Earle, clerk of the court, all of which were issued apparently. Applications for permits to leave the United States were made today by Mr. and Mrs. James Guy, Milton, who desire to go to Cuba, and for Joseph De Rock, Beloit, who seeks to visit his aged mother in Belgium. The Beloit man could trace of his mother after a long period of silence due to war conditions in the stricken country.

Only citizens can obtain passports through the office of the clerk of court. Aliens must obtain their travel permit through the consuls of the nations they desire to visit. The law now requires that the people holding a passport must also obtain a certificate showing that they have paid their federal taxes and income taxes in full before they are allowed to go on the boat. It takes only a week or at the most ten days to obtain the passport. The application is made at the clerk's office, then mailed by the clerk to the division of passport control in Washington, D. C., and the permit is mailed direct to the applicant. It costs $10 to obtain a passport per person.

8% First Mortgage Gold Bonds

Class "A" Wisconsin Securities

Dated Jan. 15, 1921. Due Serially Jan. 15, 1924-1936

Interest payable semi-annually on Jan. 15 and July 15, at the Bank of Southern Wisconsin, Janesville, Wisconsin. Coupon Bonds registerable as to principal in denominations of $500, $200 and $100, redeemable at $102, and in reverse numerical order.

R. A. Eckstein Company, Inc., Milwaukee, Trustee.

Security--

The Fire-proof Blackhawk Apartment Building on the west side of East Milwaukee St., near North East St., Janesville, Wis., three stories and basement, brick, stone, steel, reinforced concrete; a most substantial construction throughout containing 22 apartments for which we have already had forty applications. The interior arrangement is ideal for comfort, convenience and privacy; in keeping with the beautiful exterior. Everything is most modern.

Location--

Considered the finest for an apartment of this class. The hill district has been the most popular residence section in Janesville for several years. Modern apartments and private residences which have been erected in this location have not been able to meet the demand and this condition of shortage will prevail for years to come. The present increasing population of Janesville will always supply more than the required number of tenants for this apartment.

Valuation--Income--

Our appraisers have estimated the entire property valuation at $129,000 taking into consideration the present valuations, the cost of improvements and taking conservative estimate of earnings, having deducted a liberal estimate for running expenses. The total annual earnings are estimated to exceed $16,500, approximately four times the greatest annual interest charge before any of the bonds have been paid.

Sinking Funds and Other Safe Guards--

Provision has been made for monthly deposits of one-twelfth of the amount required annually for payment of interest of the maturing bonds. The semi-annual reduction of the debt after three years out of the earnings is one of the strongest safe-guards of this issue. The title is guaranteed by R. A. Eckstein Company, Inc., of Milwaukee; the trustee certifies the identity of each bond. Ample Fire insurance is deposited to protect the bond holder against fire loss.

Recommendation--

Having purchased these bonds with our own funds we are prepared to recommend them to investors in large or small amounts. Janesville people have opportunity through this issue to buy bonds secured by Janesville property—an at home investment.

INAUGURAL BAN IS UP TO PEOPLE

Harding's Request for Simple Ceremony Does Not End Matter.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Jan. 12.—President-elect Harding may make personal requests that his inauguration be as simple as possible, but does that end the matter? Congress has already appropriated funds and notwithstanding the volume of talk only a handful of men in the senate and the house actually voted against the appropriation. Mr. Harding has placed himself squarely on record, but the responsibility for the kind of an inaugural ceremony the United States shall have does not rest with any individual but with the congress and the people as a whole.

With the suggestions that economy be practiced, the uniform symbol is not to be found in the sentiment to find a reaction in the sentiment when the matter is further canvassed.

Mr. Harding wants to enthrone himself as a simple man. He should not be spent because people ought to be thrifty. But should the nation be deprived of the simple ceremony which Harding was elected by an enormous majority and with the election went the hopes of multitudes that economic conditions would be improved?

The question which folks here are asking is whether the next administration shall be started with faltering note of depression in the confidence and optimism and a bright look forward.

Enthusiasm cost much money. People here would probably sympathize with the economy for economy, but the citizens of Washington put up a sum relatively trivial compared to the amounts of money raised in other cities for the inauguration.

The whole inauguration doesn't cost the citizens much more than $150,000, and as for cost of bringing organizations to Washington to parade, some indication of that is being reported.

People like inaugural. On the whole people have in the past looked forward to inaugurations as a holiday.

Washington is a city of celebration which stirred patriotism and did more to spread knowledge of American democracy than any other single celebration in the national capital.

It is true that Mr. Harding has been annoyed by the impression that he favored a lot of fuss and feathers and he has been hurt by some of the outbursts in connection with the parade. But he himself has no more responsibility for what the citizens of Washington want to do in an inauguration ceremony than any other President.

Country moreover has been given the impression that Washington merchants make a great deal of money out of the parade. The houses and the streets are closed, and the merchants are the ones who put up most of the money. Indeed, as an advertisement for the city, the parade is one of the best of the city.

Washington feels its duty. Nevertheless, it has a duty to perform in welcoming the next president, and whether congress erects stands or not, it is not unlikely that the people of Washington will present a parade of welcome and a celebration just the same. They and their friends probably will not be deprived of an opportunity to give new president modestly feels that he must himself urge simplicity and economy. Meanwhile congress has appropriated the money and President Wilson will sign the bill. It is not unlikely that there will be an inaugural celebration of some kind. It may not be as elaborate as planned, but it will be a long parade.

There are plenty of military organizations herabouts, and military heroes too, to make up a parade without much cost to the city. Or anybody can do a thing is certain, the statement from Marion will not end the matter, and the whole subject will be discussed anew in and out of congress before a decision is reached. It will be noted that the inaugural committee has not yet taken final action.

"After what those men have endured," said Mrs. Hinton, "I cannot believe they will be anything but brothers for the rest of their lives. No one of them deserves more credit than the others."

"I am the happiest woman in the world," she continued, "and my prayer has been answered. I never lost confidence. You know, as I said on Christmas eve, I never had a day when I did not hope for their return until next spring. The children have never given up hope either. FESS MEDICAL BILL STIRS UP PROTEST

Osteopaths Assert Parents Will be Deprived of Choice of Doctors.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—Parents will be deprived by the federal government of their right of choice to the kind of physician they want for their children, if the Fess medical bill is adopted in its present form, declared the representatives of the osteopathic profession of America, at the hearing before the committee on Education, today.

The osteopaths, who have no medical degree, but who claim to be doctors, declared the representatives of the osteopathic profession of America, at the hearing before the committee on Education, today.

Dr. Hugh W. Conklin, Battle Creek, Mich., former president of the American Osteopathic association, and Dr. J. M. Smith, Boston, director of the national osteopathic department of public education, appeared before the committee, insisting upon amendments to avert what they characterized as a "medical menace."

Parents Free to Choose.

The parents should be allowed by amendment to have absolute freedom in the selection of a practitioner of any legally established school of practice, they claim, the osteopaths demand, without suggestion, recommendation, or duress, and without penalty.

The bill, if adopted in its present form, would require by law to be in black and white instead of verbal, and the law should contain a penalty for the kind of a doctor he wants.

The osteopaths explained that the treatment of disease, locally falls under three heads: physical, mental, and spiritual—and that, therefore, it is a holistic, morally wrong, and unscientific for the federal government to place the entire control of the healing art in the hands of the medical school of practice, ignoring completely the mental and mechanical practitioners.

Osteopaths Are Registered. Every single state in the country has adopted legislation regulating the practice of osteopathy and registering of osteopathic physicians. Therefore, it is a violation of state rights, the osteopaths asserted, to establish elaborate osteopathic machinery which will operate in these states, rigorously excluding registered practitioners who do not accept the osteopathic doctrine.

They said that the osteopaths, as un-desirable as communism in religious beliefs, and no free citizen should have the right to practice a religion which abridges personal rights and liberties in either of these fields.

JANESVILLE COUPLE HELD AT RACINE

Married Man and Divorced Woman Living Together, Is Charge.

Two Janesville people—George E. Bidwell, 38, and Ethel Carter, 23, are being held at Racine police on a charge of living together there our some time as man and wife. Their names are liable to be heard at the coming jury term in Racine which opens next Monday night if they decide to enter a plea of guilty in the meantime.

Bidwell has a wife and three children living here. Mrs. Carter is a divorced woman and has a 6-year old child. She lived in Evansville at one time and more recently in Janesville. Mrs. Bidwell, 103 North Chatham street, says she has not been living with her husband for more than a year.

Bidwell has been quite attentive to the Carter woman for sometime, hence, according to the police, at the police station. About six months ago he went to Racine, police say, to make his home with the Carter woman who had preceded him to that city by several months. They are alleged to have lived together as man and wife at a number of places. Racine detectives having known of the case for some time made a long investigation which finally resulted in their arrest. They were able to elude police for several weeks by moving from house to house.

BECKER SEEKS PAY FOR PERIOD HE WAS OUSTED OFF BENCH

Monroe—J. M. Becker, former county judge who was ousted from office by Governor Philipp for violation of the espionage act, has filed suit against Green county for $3,333.33, which he alleges is salary due him as county and juvenile judge from the time he was removed until the expiration of his term.

Becker was found guilty of the charge against him and was sentenced to three years in the federal prison at Port Leavenworth. His case was afterwards dismissed on a writ of error. The county board at their last session turned down the claim of Becker.

SEEK LOCATION FOR JOINT SCHOOL

Decision on the site for the consolidated school house to be built north of Janesville for districts two, three and a joint section of the town of Janesville and Port Keweenaw will be made within the next two weeks. The residents of the districts voted to join the sections and erect a two room modern school building. A committee was named to select a site. Their choice was a plot on the Janesville-Edgerton road. The recommendations were rejected at a recent meeting. Many of the people favor erecting the school on a side road so as to bring it nearer the center of the combined districts. A second meeting is to be held within the next two weeks to settle the matter, according to announcements made today at the office of the county superintendent of schools.

Millions in pockets—Which makes it pretty soft for busy crooks. About one-half of the total currency of the United States—$3,000,000,000—is being carried around in pockets and purses, hidden under mattresses, in socks or locked in strong boxes, is the opinion of William H. Hutt, acting governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. Crooks consider it a poor job if they get less than $200 from a victim, Hutt says. NEAR EAST HEADS LODGES AND CLUBS

The people of Janesville and the county will again be called upon to contribute to the support of the Near East Relief fund which last year was raised through the cooperation of churches, fraternal organizations and clubs.

Rev. H. N. Noble, Beloit county chairman, and Rev. J. A. Melrose, Janesville chairman, made the following announcement and plea in regard to this campaign this year:

"The county organization for this relief work will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Miss Kelley, lately from thrilling experiences in the Near East will speak. We cordially invite the officers and members of lodges and clubs to be present at this meeting.

"The needs in this part of the world are more distressing than elsewhere because of the ravages of the war and the cruelty of the Turk. The conditions of the children of the peoples of the Near East is pitiable beyond words. A remnant remains because of American gifts. We must not let the good work lapse or ing, and our local quota will require in addition to the gifts of generous individuals, the help of all of our organized groups for favorable action."

GRIMM COMING.
Judge George Grimm will be in Janesville on Friday afternoon set cases still open in the Rock county circuit court. He will come here after the conclusion of the Lyman murder case in Jefferson.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN MILK LOST TO FARMERS

That the farmers of Rock county and all the dairy counties of the state are losing money, was the statement made by E. H. Parker, who came here this morning from a trip in Outagamie county, where he attended the Outagamie County Dairies Dred Saw sale. Thirty-three animals sold for $225.

"This was the first state sale this year and the buying was keen. Hundreds of farmers through the state realize that the hay may be the salvation of their business, since hogs can be fed on the surplus milk and the pork is of high quality. Every day hog food in the shape of sweet milk is being thrown into the streets and dumped on the ground by farmers who have no market for the product.

When milk was high the farmer made more money in selling the milk than in raising hogs and though the price of hogs have gone down, it is found to be a profitable investment for the farmer to feed the milk now.

Mr. Parker said that the outlook for hog raising was better now than even in the time of high pork, since there was cheaper food for the animals.

Caledonians will hold a meeting at East Side Odd Fellows Hall, Friday evening, Jan. 14, at 7:30 P. M. Refreshments will be served.

But last night a funny thing happened. We were all in the library reading after dinner, and Grandpa looked up from his paper and said something about a woman that was sentenced to be hanged and how a lot of men were writing letters to her. And there were only one or two letters from women. And Grandpa said that only went to prove how much more interesting a woman was than a man. And he was just going to say more when Aunt Hattie bristled up and tossed her chin, and said, real indignantly:

"A sense of fitness of things, indeed! Oh, yes, that's all very well to say. There are plenty of men, no doubt, who are shocked beyond anything at the idea of hanging a woman, but these same men will think nothing of going straight home and making life for some other woman so absolutely miserable that she'll think hanging would be a lucky escape from something worse."

"Hattie!" exclaimed Grandpa in a shocked voice.
"Well, I mean it," declared Aunt Hattie emphatically. "Look at poor Alice here, and that wretch of a husband of hers!"

And just here is where the funny thing happened. Mother bristled up more than Aunt Hattie. Aunt Hattie had said that she was a scholar, and she turned red and then white, and her eyes blazed.

"That will do, Hattie, please, in my presence," she said, very coldly. "You know Alice is not a wretch at all. He is an honorable, scholarly gentleman. Without doubt he meant to be kind and considerate. He simply did not understand me. We weren't suited to each other. That's all."

And she got up and swept out of the room.
Now wasn't that funny? But I just looked at it all the same. I always love Mother when she's superb and naughty and disdainful.

Well, after she had gone Aunt Hattie looked at Grandpa and Grandpa looked at Aunt Hattie. Grandpa shrugged his shoulders, and gave his hands a funny little flourish, and Aunt Hattie lifted her eyebrows and said:

"Well, what do you know about that? (Aunt Hattie forgot I was in the room. I know, or she'd never in the world have used slang like that!) And after all the things she's said about how unhappy she was, she's finished Aunt Hattie!"

Grandpa didn't say anything, but just gave his funny little shrug again. And it was kind of queer, wasn't it? You come to think of it, about Mother, I mean, wasn't it?

One Month Later.
Well, I've been here another whole month, and it's growing nicer all the time. I just love it. I love the sunshine everywhere, and the curtains up to let it in. And the flowers in the rooms, and the little ferns on the dining-room table. The books and magazines just lying around ready to be picked up. Boy Lester laughing and singing all over the house, and lovely ladies and gentlemen in the dining room. I love to come home from school in the afternoon. And I love it not to have to look up and watch and listen to Father's coming in and tell me what Mother with her dancing eyes and her laugh, and her just being happy with no going in and finding out anything or looking for anything. Green Bay to Have Largest

Coal Docks on Great Lakes

Green Bay—Plans to make the Reiss coal docks the largest on the great lakes have just been completed. The program includes a new anthracite storage and screening plant, new set of car loading and unloading facilities, and the installation of a system of car haulage cables. The storage plant will have a 40,000 ton capacity of hard coal under cover in addition to 100,000 tons of soft coal.

Marquette—The city council has made public protest against the city water company for local rates. The existing rates were deemed excessive and the council said it is the only thing we can do as the city attorney informs me that the decision of the court is final and we have no recourse.

Protests will be sent to the state representatives and the city attorney will communicate with other city attorneys.

WARD OFF CROUP AND COLDS

Mothers with children liable to croup should take steps to prevent attacks of this distressing ailment. At bedtime if Turpo is applied over the neck and chest, and a little placed up the nostrils, the little ones will sleep soundly and breathe easily. Turpo keeps the air passages clear and antiseptic, and reduces any congestion.

Turpo is the recognized treatment for colds and congestion. It is made of the old-fashioned, reliable remedies, distilled Turpentine, Camphor and Menthol, skillfully combined in a clear mineral base. It will not stain or blister and produces more immediate relief than any indefinite vapor treatment of cough mixture.

Its worth is proven by the fact that over 150,000 jars are sold every year. Careful mothers everywhere keep a jar of Turpo as a staple article in the home. Doctors recommend Turpo and druggists sell it on a guarantee of money back if not satisfactory.

Sold in white oval jars with the orange and black label, at 30c and 60c.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without giving minor or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Lem, the Bashful
He Desires Popularity, But Was Too Timid To Go After It.

Lemuel Gibbons was of no vast importance or popularity among the students of Parker High, except as the butt of the good natured jabs.

His assistance on the committees that arranged for banquets and entertainments of his class was never solicited, and not once during his three years at the school had he been asked to join any of the various clubs organized by members of the student body.

His name was very rarely mentioned in connection with the students except in connection with some bit of humor, and never had Lem been asked to try out for any of the athletic teams. His longed-for popularity and the friendship of his classmates, but he was not willing to go after it—he was afraid to.

Thus, Lemuel Gibbons came to consider himself an outsider at the school. He was not at all sure of himself. He was not at all sure of himself. He was not at all sure of himself.
